

REVIEW QUESTIONS LESSON 13

- Youth 14 to 15 years of age who have passed the HOOA Certification program may work in a pen occupied by a:
  - Boar
  - Sow and piglets
  - Heifer
  - Stallion
- A pound of meat, on average, travels _____ miles before consumption
  - 50
  - 100
  - 500
  - 1,000
- The safest way to approach an animal is:
  - Quietly from the animal's rear
  - Slowly and calmly from the animal's front
  - Slowly and calmly from the animal's left rear
  - Jumping up and down and waving hands from the animal's side
- Which of following tools might be used to safely load livestock
  - Chute
  - Drencher
  - Electric prod
  - Needles
- The most common injury associated with working with cattle is:
  - Kicks or getting stepped on
  - Pinned against an object
  - Trampled
  - Bites
- A 15-year-old youth working for hire on a farm may NOT:
  - Clean out a horse stall while the horse is on pasture
  - Spend time in a pen with a newborn calf and it's mom
  - Help give piglets shots
  - Help load finished steers onto a trailer
- The tool used to administer a medicine orally to a cow is a:
  - Dehorner
  - Lasso
  - Needle
  - Bolus Plunger
- A tool used to prevent an animal from biting you is called a:
  - Fence
  - Plunger
  - Muzzle
  - Lasso
- At what age does a youth become old enough to legally perform any job, including working with a male breeding animal or mother with newborn in an enclosed area?
  - 12
  - 14
  - 16
  - 18
- When working around livestock you should:
  - Only wear black colored clothing
  - Always wear gloves
  - Know your surroundings and have an escape route planned
  - Only approach animals in the morning when they are more docile